

A CUP OF COMPASSION

The Legacy Inventory

A private, practical guide to gathering what your family will need to know.

A plan is an act of care.

This workbook helps you gather the information, stories, and people that will make a difficult time less confusing for those you love. It does not replace advice from a licensed attorney, accountant, or financial professional.

PROTECT YOUR PRIVACY

Use this as a map, not a vault. Do not put account numbers, passwords, Social Security numbers, or copies of legal documents on these pages. Record where to find them, and keep sensitive material secure.

Gather what matters

01 Every property, the county it sits in, and where the deed is kept.

02 Whose name is actually on each deed and title.

03 Vehicles, trailers, equipment, and where the titles live.

04 Any business interest and the operating agreement.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 Each institution and the type of account. Do not write account numbers here.

02 Who is named as beneficiary on each one.

03 Anything held jointly, and with whom.

04 Debts as well as assets: mortgages, loans, cards, and liens.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 Each carrier, what it covers, and who holds the paperwork.

02 The named beneficiary on every policy, confirmed this year.

03 Any employer policy that ends when the job does.

04 Who to phone to make a claim and what they will ask for.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 Which documents exist and which still need an attorney's attention.

02 The attorney who prepared them and how to reach that office.

03 Birth, marriage, military, and citizenship records.

04 Safe deposit box, home safe, or filing cabinet location and access.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 The ring, quilt, tools, Bible, photographs, and other meaningful items.

02 For each one: the item, the person, and why it matters.

03 Anything two people both expect to receive.

04 Photographs, and who has the originals, negatives, or files.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 Recipes, stories, faith, traditions, and lessons worth carrying forward.

02 A letter to each person who will need one.

03 The occasions and rituals you want your family to remember.

04 The values that should guide choices when you are not in the room.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

Gather what matters

01 Executor, trustee, and guardian - named, asked, and willing.

02 The attorney, accountant, and financial adviser.

03 Who gets called first, and who calls everybody else.

04 One person who knows this worksheet exists and where to find it.

NEXT SMALL STEP

The one thing I will gather, ask, label, or share before I turn this page:

You do not have to finish today.

Start with one list, one conversation, one location, or one story.
Preparation does not have to be perfect to be generous.

Education and preparation only - not legal, tax, or financial advice.
